Theme Letter: Occupations

Dear Parents;

In this month we will study occupations and the officers in occupations as a theme. We aim to teach occupation groups, officers who is working in these groups, equipment that is used and the contribution of different occupations to our life. All occupations are indispensable for our lives and they are related to each other. We will give some examples to illustrate these relations. A farmer grows the wheat, operator of the combine harvesters the wheat, a driver carries the wheat to a factory, a worker grains the wheat, baker cooks the bread and salesman sells the bread to us. In this way they can understand that bread is produced throughout a series of operations .

We classified occupations for better understanding.

1. Occupations of Health
2. Occupations of Production
3. Occupations of Labor
4. Occupations of Security
5. Occupations of Construction
6. Occupations of Communication
7. Occupations of Sports
8. Occupations of Transportation

When we study this theme, we will prepare projects, drama and go to field trips. You can organize activities to support your children at home. You can read newspapers and magazines together, you might talk about occupations and the relevant equipment. For example: What kind of equipment are used?, Where do doctors work ?, If doctors didn't exist, what would we do?

If you want to introduce your occupation, we invite you to our school for presentation.
